About oils+fats

oils+fats is Europe's only trade fair for the oils and fats industry. It is being held for the seventh time in 2017. The around 50 exhibitors will showcase machines, components and aids for production and further processing of vegetable and animal oils and fats. The highly specialized trade fair, Europe's key business and technology platform, presents the latest trends and technological developments. The supporting program, which is intended to bring together research and industry, revolves around technologies and markets of the future. oils+fats is thus the most important industry get-together for producers, refiners and dealers from the fields of vegetable and animal oils and fats. The next oils+fats will be held in Munich from September 11 to 15, 2017, alongside drinktec, the World's Leading Trade Fair for the Beverage and Liquid Food Industry.
