Victoria Vehse Appointed Project Manager for transport logistics Abroad

- transport logistic is growing internationally – new position created
- Victoria Vehse has extensive trade fair experience and logistics expertise.

An experienced trade fair manager, Victoria Vehse, has been appointed to the newly created position of project manager for international transport logistic trade fairs in the transport logistic exhibitions cluster. She will especially manage the air cargo forum Miami and also support the other international trade fairs in the transport logistic network in planning, implementation and strategic development.

“We are very pleased to have gained in Victoria Vehse a knowledgeable trade fair manager with international experience and logistics expertise,” Dr. Robert Schönberger explained, Exhibition Group Director of transport logistic exhibitions, Messe München. “Our trade fair network is on an international expansion course, and we have acquired competent reinforcement for our management team with Ms. Vehse.”

Ms. Vehse has more than twelve years of experience in the trade fair and event sector. Between 2007 and 2017, she worked for the trade fair construction company Meplan in various positions and most recently set up and expanded the Organizer Services Department for international customers. She has worked as an independent sales and process consultant for the past two and a half years. Victoria Vehse completed her studies with a Master of Science International Business (logistics) and was in China (Shanghai), Spain (Barcelona) and the Netherlands (Maastricht) for extended periods.
